WHY IS THIS NIGHT DIFFERENT

A CHANCE TO LISTEN: STORIES OF LIBERATION

Join us to hear powerful stories about the experiences in and with Cook County's legal system; Stories that illustrate how, even here, we are still not all free.

This program expands our partnership with ConTextos, a literary arts organization that helps lift up the voices and stories of those most impacted by Chicago's street violence.

ConTextos works in Cook County Jail, community-based reentry, workforce development and Chicago Public High Schools, creating safe spaces for radical vulnerability for participants to reflect on and unpack their past, in order to make sense of and imagine the future.

Just as we retell the story of Passover, ConTextos encourages retelling so that we may never forget as we strive for all people everywhere to be free.
